Guidance is

- ❖ A specialized service which helps an individual solve his problems by opting for the right solution to his problem among the various options available.
- ❖ A general service which is similar to education and the various educational processes.
- ❖ A sub-process of education which focuses on developmental needs of the learners.

Need of guidance

- Existence of problem is universal in the human society. Hence guidance has always been an integral part of education. However, over the last few years, the need for guidance has increased because of
- Advancement in technology,
- Social change,
- Globalization,
- Need for outstanding leadership,
- Changes in morality and integrity,
- Lofty aspirations and so on.
- Guidance, therefore, needs to be made available at the very basic and ground level in educational institutions so that an individual can adjust to his environment socially, physical, mentally and emotionally.
